

The background of the entire poster is a photograph of four young children of diverse ethnicities standing close together against a red brick wall. From left to right: a girl with dark hair and a pink bow, a girl with dark curly hair in a purple top, a boy with dark hair in a denim jacket, and a boy with curly hair in a grey sweater. They all have serious expressions.

Si no nos vacunamos no estamos protegidos

El riesgo de enfermedades, como el sarampión y la tosferina, está aumentando para nuestra generación
